

Will Quench That Thirst

Look for the Trade-Mark

TRAFFIC BILL IS READY FOR CITY FATHERS' MEETING

(Continued from page one)

officer at an intersection of streets where such an officer is on duty.

The portion of the old ordinance relating to signal devices is amended. The use of the loud or distressing signals is prohibited. The new ordinance expressly provides that efficient brakes be carried and kept in order. There is a new section regarding garage entrances, making it necessary for a sign to be put across the entrance, lighted at night, where the exit opens on the street.

There is another part relating to leading animals behind a vehicle, which by reason of the vehicle's top, or otherwise, obstructs a plain view of the animal for those approaching in an opposite direction.

The special traffic district, in which machines must not be left more than 10 minutes unattended, is bounded by King, Hotel, Fort from Queen to Berrington.

A light must be put on the rear of motor vehicles to illuminate its number.

Heavy traffic is dealt with. It limits the weight of motor trucks to 15 tons, and the weight carried to eight tons. The tires are not to have flanges on them. In another way the ordinance limits the amount of freight carried by such trucks—not more than 800 pounds per inch in width of tire. The width of the machines is fixed at not more than 90 inches. Permission may be secured from the city and county engineer to exempt a machine from these regulations on a proper showing. In another section it is made possible for a bond to be given by an owner of a truck which exceeds 15 tons in weight to exempt it from the restrictions. The bond runs to the protection of the city and county.

Where trains of wagons or motors are used, the exits must be of different widths. This is so that they will not do great injury to the road.

Officers of Lei Aloha Chapter, O. E. S., who will serve during the coming year, were installed Saturday evening followed by a banquet by the members of that organization in the Masonic Temple. Mrs. R. H. Williams, grand marshal, and Mrs. Harriet McAllister, chief installing officer, conducted the ceremony. The officers installed were Clara Petrie, worthy matron; Dr. Harry Holman, worthy patron; Amelia Holman, associate matron; Margaret Liebman, secretary; Edgar Barry, treasurer; Ashley Cooper, warder; Mrs. Kate Campbell, conductress; Isabella Greighton, assistant conductress; Eleanor Barry, Aash; Meta Sutherland, Ruth; Mrs. Nellie Wright, Esther; Harriet McAllister, Martha; Mrs. C. W. Val, Electa; Mark Robinson, chaplain.

Open Stock Dinnerware Patterns

make it positive that you can be suited. Let us know your wants—we can supply them.

The open-stock idea makes the purchase of a set easy. Buy a few articles today—more next month, etc., until the service is complete. Thus the outlay will not be felt.

Dresden R. E. 50 pc. set, $15.00. Sharon G. E. 50 pc. set, $19.00. Meissen Bl. Bd. 50 pc. set, $22.50.

W. W. Dimond & Co., Ltd.,

The House of Housewares 53-55 King Street

For Rent—House at corner of Wilder Avenue and Kewalo Street. Three bedrooms, servants' quarters, garage, etc. Possession January 1st.

BISHOP TRUST COMPANY, LIMITED,
924 Bethel St.

Fresh Salmon, Halibut and Smelt
JUST ARRIVED PER S. S. HYADES.

C. Q. YEE HOP & COMPANY

Neat Market

Tel. 3451

SIDEWALKS

Add much to the appearance and value of your property but have them built of good materials. A poor quality carries dissatisfaction because the walk crumbles. See us for the best.

HONOLULU CONSTRUCTION & DRYING CO.
Robinson Building Queen Street

YOUNG WOMAN TELLS PITIABLE TALE TO THAYER

(Continued from page one)

convicted and given the sentence as stated by Circuit Judge Dickey.

Just before his arrest, said the little woman, Paris had obtained a job with the Honolulu ranch, on Oahu, and was planning to move here. He came to Honolulu to go into prison instead, and the girl-wife followed him, investing a part of her hard-earned little fund in transportation. On arriving here she managed to find a cheap room in a house up Puna valley, and paid her rent for several months in advance. She wants to wait until the husband is released or has served his time, but the fund is dwindling. She is unable to do more than attend to the more urgent cases of her children, and another addition to the number is expected in less than four months.

TOM GUNN MAKES SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT ON FAREWELL TRIP

Under the auspices of the Nippon Jiji, a local Japanese newspaper, Tom Gunn, the Chinese aviator, yesterday gave his farewell flying exhibition before a crowd of more than 4000 persons of every nationality, which gathered at Pearl Harbor. It was perhaps the largest crowd which has attended an out-of-town aviation meet on Oahu and Tom made good with a number of flights in addition to the other events which proved successful.

In his first flight, Tom stayed in the air for nearly 15 minutes, rising from the water and circling over the lochs, appearing to have little trouble in controlling his machine. In another flight, he raced with and easily beat one of the motorboats. The program came to a close with a speed test between motor boats, one owned by Hedemann Brothers and the other by Ted Ceter.

While L. C. Whitaker and F. A. Edgcomb, who reside in the Y. M. C. A. dormitory, were playing tennis late in the afternoon one day last week, their rooms were entered by an unknown person who succeeded in getting away with considerable small change. Whitaker is said to have lost about $150, while Edgcomb is trying to account for something over $11 which he says he found missing. The association secretaries have taken the matter into their own hands and are doing everything possible in the effort to locate the miscreant.

The supervisors will meet at noon tomorrow for a short time to dispose of the payroll and a few routine matters accumulating since the last meeting. New business will be deferred until the next meeting.

FLORAL PARADE APPROPRIATION MADE BY MAUI

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WAILUKU, Maui, Jan. 9.—A large body attended quarterly meeting of the Maui Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday afternoon.

President Frank F. Baldwin was in the chair, and Secretary D. H. Case read the minutes of the previous meeting.

The treasurer's report was called for, and C. D. Lufkin reported that the sum of $175 was on hand.

The president appointed R. E. Bevilis, H. B. Penhallow, R. A. Wadsworth, J. J. Walsh, Wm. Searby, and H. W. Flee on the permanent committee in charge of the civic convention to be held on Maui this year.

The president of the chamber is ex-officio member of the committee.

W. O. Aiken moved that a nominating committee be appointed by the chair to nominate trustees and officers for the ensuing year. The committee appointed was W. O. Aiken, Hugh Howell, Wm. Henning, who nominated the same officers as last year, which are: President, Frank F. Baldwin; vice-president, R. A. Wadsworth; secretary, Daniel H. Case; treasurer, C. D. Lufkin. With few changes the trustees for the coming year are the same, consisting of 15 in number.

Mr. Wadsworth reported conversation with the Promotion Committee of Honolulu in which he was asked to suggest that the Maui Chamber of Commerce take some definite action in regard to the county of Maui as assisting in promotion work for the territory. A vote was taken that it was the sense of the Maui Chamber of Commerce that the board of supervisors be asked to take under advisement the appropriation of the sum of $50 a month to help in promotion work.

The matter was then brought up that it was most unfortunate that rumors should be circulated in Honolulu or anywhere else in the territory that the Maui board of supervisors had not been doing its full duty by the citizens of the county. It was voted that a committee of three should be appointed to talk the matter over with the board of supervisors, and if deemed best, review its work and report back to the chamber of commerce. Wm. Henning of the board of supervisors said the board welcomes such a committee and would do all in its power to put the members of it in full possession of the board's doings for the year. President Baldwin appointed R. A. Wadsworth, D. C. Lindsay and W. O. Aiken.

It was voted to entrust the sum of $200 to a committee of three, consisting of Louis von Tempelke, chairman, H. Robinson and W. H. Field. This sum was to be used for a princess in the Floral Parade and for a float representing Maui.

The necessity of a new breakwater at Kahului was brought up and a lengthy resolution was adopted, which was referred to the Honolulu chamber of commerce with a request that the latter body take similar action in referring to Washington facts concerning the needs of Kahului harbor. The chamber voted to refer the resolution as read direct to the proper parties in Washington.

The Kihel landing was discussed and it was voted to report to the board of harbor commissioners in Honolulu the need of a suitable approach to the new Kihel wharf, and point out the fact that if this approach could be built, or at least the present wooden approach made safe for passengers, that the new wharf would be available and passengers to Maui could land there instead of at McGregor's as at present.

Maui's ever present question of good roads was the last topic discussed. A special committee of A. W. Collins, Hugh Howell and H. W. Rice was appointed by the chair to confer with the board of supervisors in the matter of better roads where the public needed them.

POLICE INVESTIGATING THEFTS AT THE Y.M.C.A.

A systematic series of petty robberies that are alleged to have taken place in the Y. M. C. A. dormitories during the past few weeks have caused the matter to be placed in the hands of Captain of Detectives Arthur McDuille, who following a series of conferences held with Secretary Paul Super on Friday and Saturday, took steps to set a watch over persons entering and departing from the sleeping quarters on the top floor of the Association building.

At least two victims of recent robberies have given McDuille a detailed statement of their loss. The cases brought to the attention of the police department have had to do with thefts of money, it being claimed by Mr. Super that the coin was removed from the clothing left in the various rooms.

The officials at the association are inclined to believe that the Japanese employees at the building have had nothing to do with the series of petty thefts but intimate that the petty larceny may be laid to the door of some person visiting the dormitories at a time when most of the occupants are away on business.

DR. COWES CLAIMS HE SENT WIFE $650 WHILE SHE WAS ON THE COAST

Mrs. Pauline Cowes' suit against her husband, Dr. John F. Cowes, in which she asks for $50 a week for maintenance and on which the Honolulu dentist was taken off the steamer Sierra Saturday afternoon just as he was starting on a trip to the coast, has been set for hearing before Circuit Judge William L. Whitney at 9 o'clock next Wednesday morning.

The order of "exeat" which brought Dr. Cowes back and compelled him to give a $1000 bond was issued by Judge Robinson in the absence of Judge Whitney from his chambers at noon Saturday, and the case was immediately transferred to the latter this morning, as it properly belongs to his division of circuit court affairs.

Dr. Cowes cheerfully admits one of the charges made by his wife: that on numerous occasions he had confided to friends his intention to become a "second Nat Goodwin," and might even break the actor's matrimonial record; the dentist qualifies it, however, by declaring he spoke only in fun. He does deny the spouse's allegation that he has not contributed to her support since the marriage at San Francisco on September 24, and declares he sent her by cable a total of $650 before she came to Honolulu.

A EUGENIC ELOPEMENT

"Oh, my heart is fluttering so," cried Gracia, as she reached the foot of the ladder, and Arnold's outstretched arms.

Arnold placed his ear to her chest and listened. "Appears to be a leaky valve," he gravely reported. "You told me you were perfectly sound."

"Dr. Ippitykat said that I was," defended Gracia.

Silently Arnold helped her into the car.

"Did you bring your kissing screen?" he asked, wrapping the robes around her. "I forgot mine."—"so did I," she faltered miserably.

"Would you mind if I borrowed the chauffeur's?"

"Arnold!" she ejaculated, horrified. And he relapsed into taciturnity until—

"What does that cough mean—asthma or weak lungs?"

"I swallowed a bug," she meekly explained.

"How did you happen to have your mouth open?" he demanded. "Have you adenoids?"

"I was waiting to tell you that I loved you," she responded, less humbly. She was growing angry.

Smitten by contrition, he put his arm about her—and discovered that she was shaking violently.

"Got a chill?" he questioned suspiciously. "I didn't know you were subject to malaria."

"I'm not," she sobbed. "Riding beside an ice-man in this cold wind is enough to give anybody a chill."

"The certificate of your neurologist states specifically that you were not hysterical, and here you are—" accused Arnold.

"Nor am I," inwardly raging but outwardly composed, she withdrew from his embrace. "Perhaps we had better call this off."

"Don't, Gracia," he begged. "I didn't mean that. But you know a fellow can't be too careful in choosing a wife these days."

Presently Gracia's turn came.

"What did you put in your mouth just then?" she queried.

"Gum."

"Let me see that bottle."

Cornered, he confessed. "It was a liver tablet—for a touch of biliousness."

"Ah! Strange that your doctor's certificate didn't mention liver trouble."

In the act of replying, Arnold sneezed thrice.

"Gutarrh," charged Gracia. "You take cold easily, and probably have a spell of tonsillitis every winter."

"Certainly not, I—ouch!" He grabbed his knee and bent over in a paroxysm of pain.

"Rheumatism!"

"It isn't," he protested. "I slipped and wrenched it."

Gracia shook her head inexorably. "Of course I love and trust you, but I must have a healthy husband."

"But, Gracia, dearest—" "Take me home."

At the cold finality of her tones he buried his face in his hands. Gracia began to weep softly.

After ages and ages— "Arnold," ventured a quavering voice, "do you love me?"

"I do," he fervently affirmed. "But I haven't much confidence in your family physician's statements. He's biased."

"That's just the way it is with me. I'd die for you; and I'm sure Dr. Squills would die for you."

More silence.

"Yes, love."

"Instead of taking me home, let's go to a disinterested doctor, and then to the parson's, if—"

"Darling!"

—Terrell Love, Holiday in Lapin-cott's.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The "young people" at the Salvation Army hall, Nuuanu street, gave an interesting entertainment yesterday afternoon, the program being composed of songs and recitations.

The remains of Sam Keaweilui, an employee of the Honolulu Construction Company, were buried from the Kawaiahao church yesterday afternoon. Sam was 30 years old at the time of his death Saturday evening. The Pooles, of which he was a member, had charge of the services both at the church and at the Kawaiahao cemetery, Ben Kaalilili, the chaplain, officiating. A large procession, headed by the Catholic Mission band, made its way along Fort and King streets to the church, the members of the society and those of the auxiliary being in line beside a large number of carriages.

Police Notes

The death of Riki, a Japanese woman, who in company with her husband, drank the contents of a bottle filled with a mixture of furniture polish and wood alcohol, will occupy the attention of a jury selected by Coroner Charles Rose beginning at 3 o'clock this afternoon. While the woman passed away some days ago from the effects of the unnatural beverage, the man is an inmate of Queen's hospital with a fair chance of his recovery.

While Marcello was alleged by several Chinese to have appeared in their midst with a weapon, declared to have been a razor, he was released from custody following a hearing at district court this morning, when through testimony introduced it was shown that the Filipino was in the act of shaving and stepped from his room in a tenement to watch a party of merry-makers on the floor below. The defendant claimed to have had no intention of committing an assault with a dangerous weapon.

SUPPLY SHIPS WILL CARRY GUNS

Private shipbuilders have found themselves in competition with the Government navy yards in bidding for the privilege of constructing two havel vessels, the purpose being to obtain a wider competition and also to acquire precise data regarding the relative cost of private and governmental naval construction.

The bids submitted on Dec. 20, were for supply ship No. 1 and transport No. 1, both of which were especially planned by the General Board of the Navy to meet new conditions, and are the first of their types. The transport will be 460 feet long, 61 feet beam and 20 feet draft, with a speed of fourteen knots. She must accommodate 100 officers, 2000 enlisted men and 32 horses. Large cargo holds will provide transportation for all of the military supplies needed for the equipment of the marines when they are called upon to establish an advance base to afford a foothold for military operations in a foreign country in case of war.

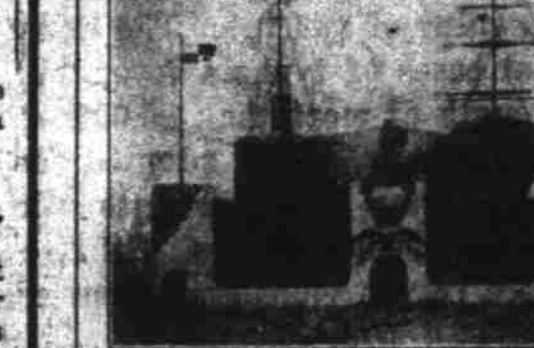

The transport will be fitted to burn either oil or coal, and will carry eight 5-inch guns to protect her personnel against attacks.

The supply ship will be in effect a gigantic "bumbot" as she is designed to accompany a fleet of eight battleships and supply them with sufficient provisions and stores for two months. She also will be fitted with a towing engine for use in aiding disabled vessels of the fleet, and can also supply them with fuel oil by pumps from her own tanks.

This vessel will be 400 long 55 feet beam and 21 feet draft, and can burn either coal or oil. She also will carry four five-inch guns, a substantial protection against anything less than an armored vessel.

These vessels will be 400 long 55 feet beam and 21 feet draft, and can burn either coal or oil. She also will carry four five-inch guns, a substantial protection against anything less than an armored vessel.

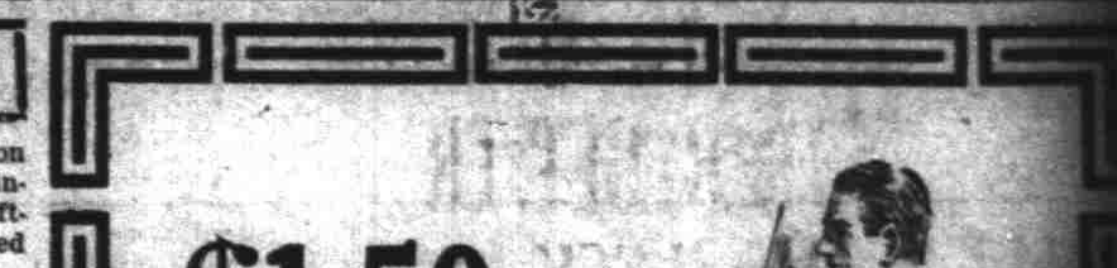

These vessels will be 400 long 55 feet beam and 21 feet draft, and can burn either coal or oil. She also will carry four five-inch guns, a substantial protection against anything less than an armored vessel.

Shares Now 21 cts

Will Advance Steadily to Par (25 Cents) by Additions of ONE CENT monthly—hourly capacity 4800; three capacity hours daily would mean $5.00 for every ONE DOLLAR invested. —10,000,000 Paid Admissions to the Fair on a basis of 40 Per Cent visitors to Our Production would give us $2,000,000, gross receipts. —Clip the coupon.

Panama Canal Concession Company,
1239 FIFTH STREET, SAN DIEGO, CAL.
JAS. T. CAWTHORN, Sales Manager

$1.50

That buys the duplicate of the

Gotham Shirt

I'm wearing—and for "one iron man and a half" you won't get better value anywhere. And I notice Gotham Shirts come back from the laundry more times than you expect.

CLARION

To level the way and lighten load.
And this be your praise as the road goes by.
(And enough it will be for a road's renown!);
You opened the door when there was a cry.
You builded a wall where the way was down.
And then at the end of the way the wind
Came joy will stay thro' a world's feast—
To know as you go that you left a hind
A friendly door on a friendly street.

The initial meeting of the new elected board of directors of the Honolulu Merchants' Association will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the rooms of the association, Young's building, at which time a president of the organization will be elected to serve during the coming year.

Last week was an unusually busy one for the local postal savings bank, recently established at the post office. To date 32 persons have made use of the Honolulu branch, depositing a total of $1712. Savings to the amount of $963.78 have been received from the branches at Schofield Barracks, Waialea and Waiapahu.

The members of the Alexander Hamilton Institute Club will meet at Cooke hall, Young Men's Christian Association building, Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The business of the evening will include a discussion of partnership and the solution of the third and fourth problems.

Rev. J. P. Erdman was the speaker at Kaunakapili church yesterday evening. A large audience was present and a special musical program rendered.

Let us never waste our time. It is come in handy to apply on a fall sentence later.

Women, you work for the girls that strive;
Girls on the battle line early and late—
You are helping them keep their souls alive
As they take their chance in the flight with Fate.

You are working for unborn sister bands,
For a great host coming the human road;
You are reaching hands to their unseen hands.

What is the word on the wind today,
What is the rumor of dare and do?
Women, you come with a dream, they say,
Banded to see that the dream comes true.

Then gather as one to your rallying camp;
Here is your chance to give God praise—
Here is the hour to lift a lamp
To light the march of the coming days.

Women, you work for the girls that strive;
Girls on the battle line early and late—
You are helping them keep their souls alive
As they take their chance in the flight with Fate.

You are working for unborn sister bands,
For a great host coming the human road;
You are reaching hands to their unseen hands.

What is the word on the wind today,
What is the rumor of dare and do?
Women, you come with a dream, they say,
Banded to see that the dream comes true.

Then gather as one to your rallying camp;
Here is your chance to give God praise—
Here is the hour to lift a lamp
To light the march of the coming days.

Women, you work for the girls that strive;
Girls on the battle line early and late—
You are helping them keep their souls alive
As they take their chance in the flight with Fate.

You are working for unborn sister bands,
For a great host coming the human road;
You are reaching hands to their unseen hands.

What is the word on the wind today,
What is the rumor of dare and do?
Women, you come with a dream, they say,
Banded to see that the dream comes true.

Then gather as one to your rallying camp;
Here is your chance to give God praise—
Here is the hour to lift a lamp
To light the march of the coming days.

Women, you work for the girls that strive;
Girls on the battle line early and late—
You are helping them keep their souls alive
As they take their chance in the flight with Fate.